

RTU academic master study program Business Informatics

PBM415 Business Law

Abstract

This course provides an introduction to the basic legal principles governing business transactions in market economics and how these principles are being adapted and implemented in Latvian context. Topics covered include contracts, the law on business organizations, including agencies, partnerships and corporations; debtor-creditor relations such as credit and secured transactions and bankruptcy and commercial paper, including negotiable instruments and documents of title. In addition the course will cover the emerging business of Law in Latvia as this per.

Within course cooperation with:

Teaching staff

Responsible instructor
Dr.oec. Jānis Grēviņš